

Prayers and Brownie Points

Leaving the mall in one of the worst snow storms of the winter, Mamaw told Josh, her 8 year old grandson, that he might need to pray that they make it back home. He bowed his head and began to pray; "Oh, Lord, please help us get back home safe in this snowstorm. Also, keep Daddy safe if he is on the road and keep Papaw safe on his way back from work tonight. Amen. " After he finished the prayer, he told her "I done good, didn't I, Mamaw?" "Yes, Josh, you did." She replied. "You not only prayed for us, but you prayed for your daddy and Papaw as well" Feeling real good about himself, he looked over and said "Well I guess that should have scored me a few brownie points with you...don't you think so, Mamaw?"
