

TIME

It's been the same forever
From the beginning of time
We put off till tomorrow
What today we could find
A Savior who is waiting
To cleanse our souls from sin
And someone who will take us
Up to Heaven some day with Him

Time can mend a broken spirit
A heart, a mind, and soul
And to those who have so little
It is worth more than gold
And one day like a thief at night
We're gonna come to find
That it's time to meet our maker
Cause we just ran out of time

We're not guaranteed tomorrow
No, not even one more breath
So give thought for your salvation
There's so little time that's left
We pray the Lord may tarry
In coming back to earth again
But should He come tomorrow
Will you be ready to go my friend

Time
It could end at any time
You can't see tomorrow
Only what is left behind
Don't turn your back on Jesus
Or you may turn around and find
That you've put it off once too often
And you've just ran out of time

Now's the day of your salvation
Don't you run out of time

How much time do you have left?
